

Limerick: History and Heritage Conference

Saturday 29 March 2014

Organised by

Department of History, University of Limerick
Department of History, Mary Immaculate College

Location: Hunt Museum

Morning session

09h30-10h15

Dr Eamon O'Flaherty, University College Dublin, Keynote Lecture

10h30-11h00

Dr David Fleming and Dr John Logan, University of Limerick, 'The House of Industry Project, 1774-1793'

11h00-11h30

Break

11h30-12h00

Dr Maura Cronin, Mary Immaculate College, 'Fieldwork and apprentice historians: the Mount St Lawrence Project'

12h00-12h30

Jennifer Moore, Royal Irish Academy and University of Limerick, 'Limerick's cartographic heritage c. 1590 to c. 1790'

Afternoon session

14h00-14h30

Dr Ursula Callaghan, Mary Immaculate College, 'Local curiosity in an age of science and discovery: Limerick, 1700-1830'

14h30-15h30

John McGrath, Mary Immaculate College, 'Ribbonmen or O'Connell's men: the early years of organised labour in Limerick'

15h45-16h15

Dr Tadgh Moloney, Mary Immaculate College, 'Recruitment in Limerick during World War One'

16h30-17h00

Mae Leonard, Writer, 'Growing up in mid-twentieth century Limerick: a personal view'

There is no registration but space is limited. Museum opens at 9.05 am