

Medical and Institutional History in the South/West of Ireland: Workshop & Seminar

10 October 2017

Room G08, Foundation Building, Mary Immaculate College

Workshop, 3.00-5.00 p.m.

- Jamie Canavan (N.U.I.G.), 'The children are looking very delicate': Children's disease, medicine, and mortality in the Galway Workhouse
- David Kilgannon (N.U.I.G.), 'Negotiating between the frying pan and the fires of hell': Homecare & Institutional Accommodation for the intellectually disabled in 1950s Ireland
- Triona Waters (M.I.C.), From 'wretched being' to 'the poor object': The evolvement of lunatic treatment and care in Limerick City and County, 1820-1840
- Lorraine Grimes (N.U.I.G.), 'I did not want to hear anything about the Homes in Ireland': A case study of an Irish unmarried mother in Britain in the 1930s

Tea/Coffee break, 5.00-5.30 p.m.

Research Seminar, 5.30 p.m.

Dr Ciara Breathnach (U.L.), 'Medicalisation and Irish women in New York and Boston, 1860-1920'

*Organised by Triona Waters, Jamie Canavan and Lorraine Grimes in conjunction with IHSA and the MIC-UL Limerick History Research Seminar series.
For further information contact: limerickmedicalhistoryseminar@outlook.com*

UNIVERSITY of LIMERICK
OLLSCOIL LUIMNIGH

MIC
MARY IMMACULATE COLLEGE
COLÁISTE MHUIRE GAN SMÁL